

These human triggered slides occurred on a west facing slope in Beehive Basin. Both slides were remotely triggered, indicating very unstable conditions. This area had a shallow and weak snowpack prior to last week's heavy snowfall. This poor structure is having trouble supporting the most recent load. Photo Clark Corey

Advisory Region
Northern Madison

Forecast link: GNFAC Avalanche Advisory for Tue Feb 5, 2013
Northern Madison, 2013-02-04