

A snowmobiler likely triggered an avalanche adjacent to the slides from last week. Hard slabs of wind blown snow are being triggered from thinner areas of the slope. Lesson: slopes adjacent to avalanches are also unstable. Video of last weeks investigation is here; photo of last weeks avalanche is here. Photo: B. Fredlund

Advisory Region
Cooke City
Longitude
-109.97W
Latitude
45.04N

Forecast link: GNFAC Avalanche Advisory for Wed Feb 27, 2013

Cooke City, 2013-02-26